

Guide To New Immigration Office District I / Bangkok Office

Location : Chaeng Wattana Road, Soi 7, Pathumtani Thailand

1. Go to Victory Monument and take bus number 29. There are three kinds of bus here, normally the red colour, blue-white colour, and yellow (express) colour. If you are hurry, take the express one, 20 bath fee for each passenger. Make sure that you ask the direction to the driver (if you're not sure, let the driver read the Thai Name) :

IT SQUARE Lak Si (ไอทีสแควร์หลักสี่)

2. Keep watching the left side. You should go down at small bus stop at the front of IT Square Lak Si.

3. Cross the Chaeng Wattana Road and walk at the left side. If you want to take a local bus, you can take number 150 or 356. Watchout, the first bus stop a little bit far from the Lak Si intersection!
4. Keep walking, until you pass CAT office. The Immigration Bueraue is nearly closed to you.
5. If you see this building, you have already ended up at your destination

6. Find a shuttle bus. There are at least two shuttle buses at the front gate of Thai's Government Building. The bus will pick you to the main immigration building.

7. You should stop here. This is one of several Thai's Government magnificent buildings there. The immigration office is located at the 2nd floor.

8. The office provides prayer rooms for Moslem and also Halal Food in the west Food Corner. You should ask the information desk about this. Not all prayer rooms are open at the same time. You can find the food corner at the 1st floor. Just walk to the west, approximately 90 degree from immigration office and enter the Food Center. The food corner name is YUSUF (ยู่ซุฟ) . Find a “basmalah” sign here. Unfortunately, all menus are in Thai. But of course they can speak English, nit noy!
